RESEARCH

262 Noninstitutional Births and Newborn Care Practices Among Adolescent Mothers in Bangladesh

These survey data highlight the need for sufficient antenatal care and skilled birth attendants for young mothers in Bangladesh.

Mosir Rahman, Syed Emdadul Haque, Sarwar Zahan, and Ohidul Islam

274 An Evaluation of a Breastfeeding Privacy Sign to Prevent Interruptions and Promote Successful Breastfeeding

A simple door sign was associated with significantly fewer interruptions during breastfeeding sessions and higher maternal perceptions of breastfeeding success.

Jennifer Albert and Jody Heinrichs-Breen

281 Pilot Evaluation of an Internet-Based Natural Family Planning Education and Service Program

This nurse-managed online natural family planning system assisted women to gain increased fertility knowledge and achieve their pregnancy intentions.

Richard Jerome Fehring, Mary Schneider, and Kathleen Raviele

292 Birth Outcomes Following Self-Inflicted Poisoning During Pregnancy, California, 2000 to 2004

Intentional poisoning, particularly in early pregnancy, was associated with increased likelihood of preterm birth, low birth weight, and circulatory system congenital anomalies.

Candace K. McClure, Thelma E. Patrick, Kenneth D. Katz, Sheryl F. Kelsey, and Harold B. Weiss

302 Exploring Modifiable Risk Factors for Wheezing in African American Premature Infants

This secondary analysis explored environmental factors associated with the development of wheezing across premature infants' first two years.

Jada L. Brooks, Diane Holditch-Davis, Lawrence R. Landerman, Margaret Shandor Miles, and Stephen C. Engelke

312 Attitudes Toward Physical Activity of White Midlife Women

This qualitative study using an online discussion analyzed women's attitudes toward physical activity in 17 topical areas.

Eun-Ok Im, Bokim Lee, Wonshik Chee, Alexa Stuijbergen, and the eMAPA Research Team

322 Evaluation of an Infant Simulator Intervention for Teen Pregnancy Prevention

This one group, pretest-posttest study suggests that using infant simulators in interventions to reduce teen pregnancy is not associated with significant attitudinal changes among participating teens.

Judith W. Herrman, Julie K. Waterhouse, and Julie Chiquoine
