REVIEWS

6 Systematic Review of the Effectiveness of Involving Parents During Painful Interventions for Their Preterm Infants

Active involvement of parents in pain-reducing measures during painful interventions for their preterm infants appears to be beneficial for the infants.

Andrea Barbara Eissler, Sandra Zwakhalen, Liliane Stoffel, and Sabine Hahn

16 Integrative Review of Racial Disparities in Perinatal Outcomes Among Beneficiaries of the Military Health System

Although racial disparities in perinatal outcomes exist among beneficiaries in the Military Health System, they may be less prevalent than in the general population.

Stacey E. Iobst, Angela Kornegay Phillips, Gwendolyn Foster, Joan Wasserman, and Candy Wilson

29 Scoping Review of Barriers and Facilitators of Breastfeeding in Women on Opioid Maintenance Therapy

Barriers and facilitators to establishing breastfeeding among women in treatment for opioid use disorder were related to information, support, and health care systems.

Margaret Doerzbacher, Mickey Sperlich, Amy Hequembourg, and Yu-Ping Chang

RESEARCH

41 Relationships Among Neighborhood Poverty, Access to Healthy Food, and Diabetes Self-Management in Women Who Received Perinatal Nurse Home Visits

The WIC nutritional program was associated with better glycemic control among pregnant women with diabetes who received perinatal nurse home visits.

Yosefa Birati, Joan Rosen Bloch, Amy McKeever, and Beth D. Chiatti

53 Parents' Experiences of Immediate Skin-to-Skin Contact After the Birth of Their Very Preterm Neonates

Skin-to-skin contact immediately after birth between parents and their very preterm neonates was experienced as valuable and empowering by parents when they were supported by staff.

Siri Lilliesköld, Sofia Zwedberg, Agnes Linnér, and Wibke Jonas

The authors found no differences in volume or percentage of food taken, feed duration, or feeding efficiency between the left and right semi-elevated side-lying positions for preterm infants.

Eda Aktaş, Burcu Aykanat Girgin, Duygu Gözen, Kübra Ergün, Aylin Pekyigit, and Merih Çetinkaya

73 Breast Milk Production in Women Who Use Nipple Shields for Persistent Nipple Pain

Nipple pain was not associated with reduced milk production, but it was associated with decreased breastfeeding frequency.

Viviane Silva Coentro, Ching Tat Lai, Alethea Rea, Berwin Turlach, Donna Tracy Geddes, and Sharon Lisa Perrella
