

Highlights

- Living with the Unwelcome Guest; Thai Muslims Living with Type 2 Diabetes Mellitus
- Quantitative Fit Tests of Selected Respirators for Health Care Workers Caring for Patients with Confirmed or Suspected COVID-19
- Severe Fever with Thrombocytopenia Syndrome Virus: The First Case Report in Thailand
- Long Head Biceps Superior Capsular Reconstruction: Available option for Irreparable Rotator Cuff tear-A Case Report
- Solitary Lung Nodule Localization using Electromagnetic Navigation Bronchoscopy with Fiducial Marker Placement and Video Assisted Thoracoscopic Surgery: A Case Report
- Latest Update in Bone Age Assessment Model with Deep Learning

Use of Narrow Band Imaging in diagnosis of Unexplained Hemoptysis-A Case Report

Endobronchial Telangiectasia

Telangiectatic lesions in the subglottic area to one-third of the proximal trachea

The Bangkok Medical Journal
SERIALS

006884
bib:13399127299

Narrow band imaging (NBI) was also performed during FOB which confirmed the presence of telangiectasia.

Detailed description is given on pages 207-209

